

THREE ARE MISSING

THE BODY OF BUT ONE FLOOD VICTIM RECOVERED.

FOUND IN A PILE OF DEBRIS

DAMAGE DONE BY THE STREAM ESTIMATED AT $50,000.

Searchers Look All Day for Bodies of Robert Kanute and His Two Children—Is Believed They Were Carried to the Missouri River.

A narrow, muddy stream, almost sluggish, choked here and there by fallen trees and underbrush, yesterday marked the course of what the night before had been a raging torrent. For a distance of more than a mile there was ample evidence of the fury of the mighty wall of water—suddenly released by a broken dam and augmented by a downpour of rain that amounted to almost a cloudburst—which moved with restless force and incredible speed down the sloping Jersey creek valley, edging and swirling, uprooting trees, undermining houses, catching in its destructive waves human and animal life and choking its victims down to death. Thousands of people visited the scene near Chelsea park yesterday, and stood for hours watching the searchers for the dead as they raked and scraped about the immense piles of debris cast up by the torrent.

SCENES AFTER THE FLOOD IN WHICH FOUR LIVES WERE LOST.

Only one body was found—that of a woman, Mrs. Cora Irene Greenlee. It was lodged in a mass of stiff-wood, weeds, underbrush and fragments of houses—that the water had collected at a culvert 300 yards from her former home, at Thirteenth street and "L" road. The body was lying face downward, partially wrapped in a sheet, and still dressed in the underclothing that she wore when the sullen roar of the stream drowned her scared cries on the night before. The body was lifted tenderly from its resting place and taken to an undertaker's morgue to be prepared for burial. W. F. Greenlee, the husband, whose narrow escape from death borders on the miraculous, was able to be out yesterday, but carried one arm in a sling and walked with a crutch, as a result of the buffeting he received in the swollen stream. The bodies of Robert Kanute and his two children, Willie and Mollie, have not been recovered. The Kanute home was swept away by the flood and demolished at the Fifth street bridge, at which point it is believed the father and his two children were precipitated into the water. The theory is advanced that their lives were either dashed out when their home crumbled at the bridge, or that they were drowned there and their bodies caught up by the current and carried on down to the Missouri river, which also is swollen by the heavy Northern rains.

It is evident that the flood was the result of a cloudburst over that portion of the suburban district just out of the limits of Kansas City, Kas., known as Midland park, immediately north of Chelsea park. Residents of the district inundated state that more water flowed from the ground known as Midland park than from the Chelsea or Jersey creek district until the dam gave way. When the dam at Chelsea park, constituting the east bank of the large artificial lake, was forced, a bank of water variously estimated by those who saw it as from ten to twenty feet high rushed down the already swollen creek. Great damage was done to dwellings all along the tortuous banks of the creek. Foundations were washed out, outhouses and barns were carried away, cattle and horses were drowned, poultry was scattered over the surrounding country and havoc was created everywhere along the path of the flood.

The home of the Greenlee family at 204 North Thirteenth street was the first to be washed entirely away. It was carried down the stream. Greenlee and his wife were in the basement. They escaped into the flood together from a window, but became separated. Greenlee succeeded in clinging to the top of a tree until rescued by Dr. M. H. Todd and other neighbors. He was drifting at daylight on the crew of the boat and was rescued by the crew of the boat and taken to Chelsea park. He remained there until afternoon removing the wreckage. Parts of the furniture of the Kanute home were found. A great pile of debris was still in the creek when the stream gave up the search, resigning in favor of a gang of men in the employ of the street commissioner's department of the city.

WOULD RUN THEM

GOVERNMENT CONTRACTORS OBJECT TO EIGHT-HOUR BILL.

FORMAL HEARING YESTERDAY

MAY THEY COULD NOT ACCEPT OUTSIDE CONTRACTS.

Impracticable to Work Men on Government Contracts Only Eight Hours and Longer on Other Contracts—Complications Threatened.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—A sub-committee of the senate committee on education and labor today gave a hearing to the representatives of corporations and others which have contracts under the government, and which oppose the extension of the eight-hour law to contractors under the government, the sub-committee having previously heard representatives of labor favoring the law. Among those present who were heard were the following: Charles Cramp, president, and Mr. McGammon, secretary, of the Willis C. Cramp & Sons' Ship and Engine Building Company; ex-United States Senator Higgins, representing several Delaware companies; representative Payson, attorney for the Newport

THE BREAK IN THE DAM.

News Shipbuilding Company; R. P. Lindeman, president, and Mr. Davenport, superintendent, of the Bethlehem Steel and Iron Company; and James Galley, president, and Mr. Corry, superintendent, of the Carnegie company.

Mr. Cramp argued that, if the bill should become a law, it would be impossible for his company to compete in bidding for the construction of foreign warships. He said he was now building warships for both Russia and Japan, and that it would be impracticable to work men on the American vessels for only eight hours and those on the others for a greater length of time. He could not compete with the European companies in bidding for such work if compelled to work under an eight-hour law.

Mr. Payson said that, if the bill should become a law, it would be necessary for the Newport News company either to refuse government business or to go out of business, for, if government work should be accepted at all, under the law, it would be necessary to adopt the eight-hour system for all employees. This condition of affairs would render it impossible to proceed with business.

Mr. Payson expressed the opinion, in reply to a question from Senator Gear, that, under the proposed law, wheat purchased by the government would have to be grown by men working under the eight-hour system.

Mr. Lindemann said that the firm supplying coal to the Bethlehem works and other sub-contractors had notified him that in case the bill should become a law they would not enter into another contract with him, as it would be necessary for them to operate in accordance with its terms, which they would not undertake to do.

MR. CARMACK'S WAIL. He Does Not Approve the Sentiment for Extending America's Possessions.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The general deficiency bill was considered today by the house. It was not discussed at all, probably will be taken up to-morrow and passed, unless the private calendar is urged. In the general debate upon the bill, Mr. Democrat of South Carolina, delivered a speech in support of the Lodge immigration bill, and Mr. Carmack, Democrat of Tennessee, spoke upon the probability of the war ending in the inauguration of a policy of territorial aggression. Arguing from this conclusion and the resulting necessity for greatly increased naval and military strength and the inevitable participation in frequent international wrangles, Mr. Carmack contended that the internal tax features of the war revenue bill would necessarily become permanent fixtures in the country revenue system, and be a perpetual incumbrance upon the people. He was in favor of humanity, but the voices in behalf of Cuba were not heard. He was in favor of women and children were now silenced, and throughout the land, on every hand, great and small, of conquest and acquisition of territory.

TO STRAIGHTEN A RIVER.

Bill Empowering the "Katy" to Restore the South Canadian Channel Favorably Reported.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) Senator C. C. Aldrich, of Arkansas, today gave his remarks on the bill to incorporate the International American Bank to the unfinished business, the bill to incorporate the International American Bank.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) Senator Aldrich, of Arkansas, today gave his remarks on the bill to incorporate the International American Bank to the unfinished business, the bill to incorporate the International American Bank.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) Senator Aldrich, of Arkansas, today gave his remarks on the bill to incorporate the International American Bank to the unfinished business, the bill to incorporate the International American Bank.

HAWAII IN THE SENATE. Senator Davis Hopes to Be Able to Report the House Resolution To-day.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Senator Davis, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, said today that he would call a meeting of the committee on Monday morning to consider the Hawaiian resolution which passed the house yesterday. The senator said that he expected the committee to report the matter to the senate on Monday. He said he had no doubt that the decision would be favorable to annexation.

For Three New Federal Jails. WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) One of the terms in the general deficiency bill provides for an appropriation of $100,000 for the erection of three United States jails in the United States. Two of them will be located at Ardmore and McAlester, respectively, and the third either at Muskogee or Wetumpka.

Port Arthur Losses. WASHINGTON, June 16.—After a spirited fight, the senate today passed the bill to amend the act relating to the Port Arthur, Tex., supports of entry, was passed by the house today, with an amendment eliminating Port Arthur, Tex., from the list of ports of call for the U. S. S. Albatross, of the U. S. Fish Commission, respectively, and the third either at Muskogee or Wetumpka.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR. J. W. Goheen, of Philadelphia, Elected Supreme Dictator—Next Meeting at Detroit.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The Knights of Honor to-day elected officers as follows: Supreme Dictator, J. W. Goheen, Philadelphia (re-elected); supreme vice dictator, John P. Shannon, Elberton, Ga.; supreme assistant dictator, D. B. Eggs, Boston; supreme reporter, L. Nelson, New York; supreme treasurer, Joseph W. Branch, St. Louis; supreme chaplain, Rev. Mr. H. M. Hope, Virginia; supreme guide, J. H. Hancock, Louisville; supreme guardian, J. R. Cole, Texas; supreme sentinel, Frank R. Cole, Texas; supreme scribe, W. S. B. Mize, Emporia, Kas.; W. J. Robison, Erie, Pa.; D. T. Well, New Orleans. The following were elected: J. C. Shepard, Edgewood, B. C.; Judge N. W. Givan, Harrisonville, Mo.; Samuel Klintz, Newark, N. J.

MINNESOTA BOLTERS' TICKET. Middle-of-the-Roaders Nominate L. C. Long for Governor—Denial Issued for Senator.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., June 16.—The middle-of-the-road bolters' ticket for the state Populist convention, held in this city yesterday, because the majority insisted upon fusion with the Democrats and silver Republicans, held a convention of their own to-day and nominated the following: For governor, L. C. Long, Magnolia; for lieutenant governor, Kittling Halverson, Belgrade; for secretary of state, M. Wogenberg, Duluth; for auditor, Charles Hopkins, Fairview; for treasurer, J. H. Leary, Lake City; for attorney general, John F. Kelly, St. Paul; for clerk of the supreme court, J. H. Leary, Lake City; for secretary of the supreme court, Ignatius Donnelly, the leader of the bolters, was endorsed for United States senator. The bolters' ticket was endorsed by the national committee. Whether or not they will be seated depends upon the action of the Democrats and the national committee.

A SUPERSTITION VERIFIED. Accident at Pittsburg Yesterday Tends to Uphold the "Fatal Trinity" Belief.

PITTSBURG, KAS., June 16.—(Special.) William Butler, a miner employed at the Swan coal shaft, was instantly killed to-day about 11 o'clock by a fall of rock. His body was cut in two by the fall of a large block of rock. The body was terribly mangled, but the head and one arm that was not covered by the rock were not marked. Butler was a single man about 36 years of age, but he was not married. He had a brother in Sulphur Springs, Ark., both of whom have been notified. Before coming to work at the Swan shaft, he was employed at some of the Kansas City packing works.

Missouri Bible School Convention. MEXICO, MO., June 16.—(Special.) The Missouri Bible school convention, which has been in session at Mexico, Mo., since last night, closed to-day. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. E. Corwin, New Leader, president; H. P. Marshall, Hannibal, vice president; J. W. Moore, Hannibal, recording secretary; J. E. Brant, Hannibal, secretary; T. A. Abbott, St. Louis, railroad secretary; M. McDonald, Palmyra, auditor.

Sultan Gives His Approval. CONSTANTINOPLE, June 16.—The sultan has given notice of his approval of the appointment of C. E. Brantley, of New York, as United States minister to Turkey, in succession to Dr. James B. Angell, resigned.

BRIEF BITS OF NEWS. Dr. J. W. Porter has been appointed a pension examining surgeon at Grand, Kas. John Driver, colored, was killed by a mine explosion at Grand, Kas., on Wednesday evening.

Postoffice at Yale, Kas., and Lehigh, Mo., will become international money order offices July 1.

George P. Taylor, aged 70, a wealthy resident of King City, Mo., died in a hospital at Kansas City, Mo., on Wednesday evening.

Private Board of Company I, Second regiment Missouri volunteers, left Sedalia last night for the front at Chickasaw, Ark., Ga., with twenty privates.

The recruiting officers who were to have been at Abilene yesterday did not appear. The officers who were to have been at Abilene yesterday did not appear. The officers who were to have been at Abilene yesterday did not appear.

ANXIOUS TO MOVE

MISSOURI VOLUNTEERS EAGER FOR NEW UNIFORMS FOR THE THIRD REGIMENT BAND.

Officers to Fit Out the Musicians in More Becoming Style—Dancers of the Confederacy Send Needed Articles to the Soldiers.

HOPE TO GET AWAY SOON

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid. The last sign of the civilian has disappeared. Every enlisted man "looks alike," and if a company of veteran regulars were scattered through the regiment it is doubtful if an old military officer could pick out a corporal's guard of them from the "rookies" of a few weeks ago. All the clothing, shoes and hats that the boys would be scattered through the regiment it is doubtful if an old military officer could pick out a corporal's guard of them from the "rookies" of a few weeks ago.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The Third regiment of Missouri volunteers has been quickly settled down into the routine of army life. The regiment has been paid, the boys getting pay for seventeen days more than they expected, and in no reflection on the soldier's patriotism to say that he feels more soldierly after he has been once paid.

WASHING TON, June 16.—(Special.)

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) The best pleased man in Washington to-day is Judge McDougal. He and Judge Warwick, of St. Louis, have expended lots of time and brains during the past year or two in trying to get forty-one half-breed Osage Indians, who were stricken from the Osage annuity roll and deprived of all other rights as members of that tribe, restored to that roll and all other rights.

PORT ARTHUR ROUTE.

NEW LINE TO OMAHA

Train Leaves Kansas City 9:00 p. m. Daily.

Patrons Local, 4:50 p. m.

This is the first and only line to inaugurate "COMPARTMENT CHAIR CARS." New Sleepers, New Parlor Cars, the best in the land.

RATES AS LOW AS THE LOWEST EVERY DAY. All trains leave the Grand Central Depot, 2d and Wyandotte streets. Special rates for large parties to the Omaha Exposition.

Ticket office, 106 West Ninth. H. C. ORR, Gen. Pass. Agt.

VIRGINIA SUMMER RESORTS

IN THE BLUE RIDGE AND ALLEGHANY MOUNTAINS

Via Big Four Route and Chesapeake & Ohio Ry.

Summer Excursion Tickets now on sale, good returning until October 31, and to stop off anywhere, on the C. & O. Ry., going and returning. Very cheap board at the smaller mountain resorts, and the best that money will buy at the more fashionable resorts.

$21.25 ST. LOUIS TO WASHINGTON, D. C., AND RETURN.

And from all points in the West at proportionate rates. Tickets good